

The Eighty-One (81) Divination of the 9-stars [雙星加會]

In Xuan Kong Flying Star feng shui (XKFSFS), every star has its own characteristic, but when they interact with another star, it will create a kind of “chemical reaction” which denotes different meaning. For instance, the number 1 water star and the number 4 wood star each has its own characteristic, but when they combine together as [1,4]; it will become the scholar star [文昌星]. Furthermore, it will form the auspicious effect of water feeds wood. On the other hand, if the combination is [4, 1], it indicates that the wood is absorbing the water, and this will have the effect of licentious relationship. Therefore, when we are analyzing the flying star combination, we have to keep in mind that there is the difference between its succession order and the interactions of the elements.

When we are analyzing the natal chart, there are a few principles we have to keep in mind:

- concentrate on the sitting/facing flying star combinations at the facing, sitting and center palace, because the combination effects in these sectors will basically sum up the feng shui of the house
- the timely and untimely factor of the flying star combinations have to be considered when analyzing their effects. Normally, timely denotes auspicious effects, and untimely implies inauspicious effects.
- the natal chart is considered as the “li chi” of the house, and the outside/inside physical environment is considered as “luan tao”. In order to predict accurately the feng shui of the house, it is important that we have to study both which is one of the most important concepts of the Xuan Kong Flying Star feng shui [形理兼顧]
